Editorial

My father was fond of saying, "If bread is the staff of life, then beer is life itself", even though he rarely drank more than a small lager and lime. With this quote in mind I recently enjoyed a guided tour of the West Berkshire Brewery operation over near my teenage stomping ground of Yattendon. I was surprised by the size of the recently expanded facility which is in the grounds of Frilsham Home Farm. The brewery now has a very large restaurant (children and dogs welcome) with a bar and a retail outlet. Even if you are not a beer drinker it is well worth a visit for the excellent food. I recommend the Moroccan Lamb Burger. After an instructive and interesting tour through the beer-making process one of the very knowledgeable young brewers told us that the spent hops and barley are recycled into feed for cattle and deer. This reminded me of the beautiful herd of deer we now have close to Woolton Hill in the grounds of Malverleys house, the deer often grazing in the open field and quite visible from the road to East End. Well worth a look, not something you see every day.

"OUR CHURCH"

In some people's lives there is a moment when something goes wrong, when they do something very bad, something that poisons their life for good.

In a small village, the last remaining members of the dwindling church committee gather to discuss its future. At this critical meeting, Tom, a contentious nomination to join the committee, is put forward. Caught with indecent images of children on his computer, Tom has been to prison and is now on the sex offenders register. Whilst many of the community can't forgive him, one committee member proposes that Tom is given a second chance. When the impact of the past collides with the future of a village community, is forgiveness ever possible? A powerful and captivating new drama that explores, from multiple points of view, what it means to live a haunted life.

This play contains themes of a sensitive and potentially distressing nature. Parental discretion recommended.

Tickets £12.50 each from Mary McQuillen, email: marymcquillen@icloud.com tel: 01635 254264

St Martin's Guild Fete – 27 May 2019

On behalf of the St Martin's Guild Committee, thank you to everyone who helped with and came to the Fete on Bank Holiday Monday.

The Fete was blessed with good weather, and the crowds came pouring in. Entertainment was provided by the East Woodhay Silver Band and Ray Prior's Falconry Show. In the Central Arena our ringmaster Simon Everard held Children's Races and the Fun Family Dog Show.

A big thank you must also go to Pete Mason and friends, and Chris Wilkes, who brought some wonderful vintage cars for everyone to look at.

The provisional figures show that we made almost £11,000 on the day and hopefully, including donations and after expenses are taken out, the total should be over £15,000.

As many are interested in the individual results of the stalls they are as follows:

Books	£266	Beer	£830
Cakes	£554	Sausages	£305
Granny's Attic	£1,034	Plants	£2,573
Raffle	£1,570	Tombola	£414
Teas	£1,179	lce cream	£185
Sideshows	£583	Gate	£910

A huge thank you must go to Tina, Charlie, Emily and the team who did a wonderful job in helping us set-up the Fete, as well as running the Garden Tours.

Thanks to our site manager Graham Heald, to Hugh Titcomb, Rodolph de Salis and Anthony Broke-Smith who managed the parking, to the gate keepers, James and Lucy d'Albuquerque, Hugh Cobbe and Richard Twallin and to the amazing tea ladies organised by Sarah Ede. This year we also had a Community Tent which featured the EW Flower Show, the EW W.I., the EW Society and Neighbourcare; all promoting their activities as well as raising money. Thanks also to Mia Hancock and volunteers from St Martin's School who ran the Teddy Tombola, Fi Coyne and Laura Hill and the Children's Games, the Wheatman family and their beer tent, Anne Aston's Granny's Attic which this year also included wonderful items sewn by the EW sewing group which helped produce a record profit for the stall, the Godfrey family's Ice Cream stall, Rhona Everard's cake stall, Jenny Sanders' Books, the Wilsons' Tombola, Sarah Porter's wonderful plant stall, the Foxons' Sausage Sizzle, and Jonathan Hopson's raffle, as well as the many willing volunteers who put up the tents, manned the stalls and sideshows all afternoon, put it all away at the end of the day and still had the energy to gather at the Furze Bush for a final celebration!

> Thank you everyone. Sarah Leventhorpe (Hon Sec)

East Woodhay Local History Society

EWLHS Spring Walk

Every year, once our season of talks has ended, the History Society visits a local village to look at its history. Last October we had an excellent talk by Terry Gilligan about the Aldbourne Bell Foundry and it was decided to visit this interesting village in May.

About 20 of us met outside the Blue Boar pub – though a few had been inside for a pub lunch first! We were greeted by Terry and his colleague, Jan, and then split into two smaller groups for the walk.

Having only driven through Aldbourne before, I hadn't realised that it was bigger than I thought. There are numerous footpaths and quiet roads to explore with thatched cottages to admire in places. There used to be more but a fire some centuries ago put an end to any more being built. We were shown the Malthouse barn, the Weaver's house as well as the site of the bell foundry.

We visited the part-time blacksmith (an accountant at other times!) who had reopened his uncle's forge & welcomes visitors. We also learnt about the many American servicemen who were stationed there in WW2 – among them being the crack SAS-type unit now known as the 'Band of Brothers'.

The high spot – literally – of the afternoon was going up into the Bell Tower of the church to visit the first floor where the ringing takes place, the second floor where the bells are hung and, finally, up onto the roof for spectacular views of Aldbourne and the surrounding countryside helped by the lovely sunny day.

We ended our tour at their Heritage Centre that has displays of bells and other artifacts. It is open most weekends in the summer but check their website for more details: aldbourneheritage.co.uk Certainly we would recommend a visit to this friendly & interesting village.

Woolton Hill & District Gardeners' Club

A coachload of members and friends enjoyed a splendid day out in Exbury Gardens in May. It was an excellent time of year to see the collection of rhododendrons and azaleas for which Exbury is famous – but there was much more to enjoy, including seasonal planting, an art gallery, restaurant, gift shop and plant sales. For the fit among us there were plenty of walks, to the Beaulieu river and around the whole estate; for those who wanted a more leisurely visit there was a choice of electric buggy or steam railway.

On Saturday 20th July there is an outing by car to Old Camps, Headley. Please check with Mary Harcourt if you are interested.

The final event of our summer is the Cream Tea afternoon on Sunday 18th August. More details will follow.

It is good news that hedgehogs are visiting local gardens in numbers. Recently we set up our night camera and provided a feeding and watering point, and within a couple of days we had visiting hedgehogs. Initially there were single visits but now there are sometimes two at a time, and judging from their behaviour they may well be a couple. I suppose it was predictable that a cat would also find the food – so if you have a tabby with a studded collar and a bell, it's getting an extra meal, but sometimes the hedgehogs get there first, luckily. Last night the food holder disappeared. That is a real mystery....

Your Favourite Garden?

As predicted the question elicited a vast range of choices not only in the UK but Poland and Singapore too. Stourhead in Wiltshire was mentioned by several as being outstanding. We also heard about Vita Sackville-West and Harold Nicolson's garden at Sissinghurst Castle in Kent with its famous separate gardens including the much copied 'White Garden'. This contrasted with the new garden at Alnwick Castle re-created by the Duchess of Northumberland at the turn of the century and renowned for its spectacular cascades and Poison Garden. A large childhood garden near Pinner designed by a member's mother, brought back memories of a wonderful haven not only for her and her siblings but her own children too. A sentiment expressed by all was the pleasure the gardens provided as an escape from the 'busyness' of our lives.

Design A Road Sign

Design a road sign, serious or humorous, was the subject of our second meeting this month. Looking at the history of the road sign, we heard that the Romans were probably the first to use traffic signs in Britain. They marked road distances at one thousand paces (approximately one mile) with stones called 'milliaries' (milestones). Most early signposts were erected by private individuals at their own expense. A 1648 law required each parish to place guide posts at its crossroads but it was not until after the 1773 General Turnpike Act that these guide posts or 'finger posts' became more common. Today we have three basic signs that give orders, warn and give information. Typographer and graphic designer Margaret Calvert is known for designing many of the road signs used throughout the UK. She also designed the Transport font used on road signs and the Rail Alphabet font used on the British railway system. We also discussed the number of road signs there are around today and we all agreed that there are far too many for drivers. Back to our designs-not many of us are budding artists but we had a lot of fun looking at each other's attempts at designing a road sign to tackle what appeared to be daily frustrating occurrences for all of us, e.g. road works! Our signs were mainly tongue-in-cheek and included a hump-backed whale to warn drivers of sleeping policemen which we felt would be more eye-catching; a picture of a thin car to warn drivers about a narrow road and a ZZZZ sign to indicate a boring road!

...and now for something completely different

Who would have thought that fifty adults could have had so much fun urging on the fluffy pig that they had chosen to back in one of the six races at the Ham–Shire Pig Meeting, run by Liz & Dave, and held in Woolton Hill Church Hall on the evening of May 11th?

The racecourse was about six feet long and eight battery driven pigs shuffled and snorted their way along to the finishing line, accompanied by a very exciting commentary. The Tote ensured that some people went home in profit and that St Thomas' funds benefited to the tune of £650.

The individual races were each kindly sponsored by local companies–A.T. Motors, Marsh Fuels, Yew Tree Garden Centre, The Stores, A.Teece, and Peter Brunsden. We are very grateful for their support.

Along with games such as "Heads or Tails" and "Higher or Lower", and a music Sing Along which showed how very agile three different generations could be when having fun-no names mentioned! It was a very good evening which may well be repeated at a later date.

East Woodhay Women's Institute

Our AGM started off on a high note with a visit from the playgroup who share the hall with us. They sang nursery rhymes – first a traditional version then a modern one – which we all enjoyed.

Their visit lifted the meeting as we were missing one of our long-time members Phil Beaver – our condolences to her family.

The AGM and resolutions were despatched very quickly and efficiently by our chairman.

Our next meeting is a talk about the area by two local historians.

June Milsom

East Woodhay Silver Band

Dear friends,

We all have our favourite times of the year – mine is late Spring into early Summer. For Sue and me this is our first Spring in Highclere and so the beautiful countryside of this part of England has been absolutely gorgeous from late April through May and in to June – signs of new life and growth were abundant everywhere. Our 'new' garden emerged from its winter slumber with a truly beautiful array of colours – including the less than welcome crop of dandelions! By the time you read this article local gardens will be looking at their best. We are so blessed, locally, and should cherish the wonders of nature.

However, we are regularly reminded that the global climate is changing and it seems as if the evidence for this is undeniable (although some people seem to try to denv it). In communities across our beautiful world lots of people – many of them voung – are very concerned about the damage caused to the environment of our planet. Perhaps you are tempted to think as one individual "What can I do?" There is an African proverb which goes something like "If you think you are too small to make a difference, then try sleeping with a mosquito!" Mother Theresa put the same thought very differently: "It is better to light one candle than curse the darkness!" Following a recent local churches' conference a small group of church folk are meeting to think and talk about the issues which global warming poses for our lives – trying to think global, but acting locally. Some readers may well be already involved in this vitally important issue; others may be wondering how to respond; others may feel helpless in the face of such a daunting challenge to the future of our world. If you would like to join others in some local discussions on climate change issues please feel free to email me on: canonmarvin27@gmail.com. with every blessing,

Petty Vandalism

It was distressing to discover that three benches in St. Thomas' churchvard have been vandalised. One bench was 'decorated' with graffiti – quite explicit and also with names attached. These are noted but we decided not to publish them. There have been a few minor incidents over the past year but this mindless damage is hard to understand. The benches are provided for the use of anyone visiting the churchyard, especially those visiting and caring for memorials to loved ones.

EWPC News

Meadowbrook S106 Monies and Community Land Update from Paul Hurst

Over the last year local project managers from our sports clubs and village halls have made great progress in agreeing, specifying and gaining approval for projects to be funded by S106 funds from the Meadowbrook (formally Harwood Paddock) housing development.

These are the funds that Bloor Homes had to pay towards improving local infrastructure as part of the agreement to develop the Meadowbrook estate. The specific areas of expenditure were determined by the original S106 contract signed at commencement of the development in 2014. The funds are owned and managed by Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council (BDBC) and a formal process of spend approval has had to be followed by our project managers. EWPC has helped the project managers navigate this approval process.

The local project managers must be congratulated for the work they have put in to specify the detail of the projects to enable them to move to the approval stage.

I am delighted to announce that from these funds, £92,828 requested for refurbishment projects for our village halls, have been approved by BDBC. The following split of funding has been approved:

£65,000 to East Woodhay Village Hall, project manager Peter Stanley. £27,828 to Woolton Hill Church Hall, project manager John Angle. The refurbishment projects will now commence and we will update you on their progress. The sports clubs have also made progress on their allocation of £40,895 from the fund and have fully specified projects that are now with BDBC for approval. This will be covered in more detail in the next copy of Spectrum.

On a more disappointing note is the lack of progress on the sign off of the Meadowbrook development. Although the estate has been completed for some time. Bloor Homes have still not completed remedial planting to bring them into compliance with the original landscape plans. Therefore, BDBC have not been able to sign off the development. The lack of sign off of the site continues to delay the handover of the area designated community land to the Parish. BDBC are exploring means of how to put pressure on Bloor Homes to achieve completion and site sign off. At present it is important to note, the site remains owned and maintained by Bloor Homes and its contractors. BDBC and EWPC are not allowed to make changes to the site.

The Annual Parish Meeting took place as scheduled in the Woolton Hill Church Hall. A virtually full Parish Council was present as were our ward councillors for B&D and HCC (Clive Sanders and Tom Thacker respectively).

Alas the councillors outnumbered parishioners by 2:1 thus showing that this annual and mandatory meeting is not exactly attracting big audiences. We will consider ways of making this more attractive over the next year with the hope of raising a little more community participation.

East Woodhay Twinning Association

Visit from our "Twinned" French families.

The British weather was firmly on our side for the whole of the visit this May (Friday 31st to Sunday 2nd June) when 17 French families arrived to enjoy this lovely part of Hampshire. After the overnight ferry crossing and a welcome breakfast at Portsmouth ferry terminal, everyone boarded a coach for the start of a day's sightseeing. First stop was at Romsev and a visit to the Abbey which was much admired then a spot of shopping before moving on to Mottisfont gardens for lunch and to enjoy the beautiful display of old English roses for which Mottisfont is renowned. By contrast the next stop was at the Museum of Army Flying near Andover, which proved fascinating to both adults and children, then the coach finally arrived at Woolton Hill late on Friday afternoon to an enthusiastic welcome from all the host families.

Making the most of the beautiful warm day on Saturday, some families opted for outdoor pursuits–walks with a pub lunch or a tour of Oxford on the open top bus followed by a picnic and amusing scenes of punting on the river! A couple of families took their visitors to Windsor Castle and this choice has also been enjoyed in previous years. For a bit of local history the newly renovated control tower at Greenham Common attracted a few families, the view from the tower being especially impressive.

A wonderful social event was held on Saturday evening when all hosts and visitors assembled for a grand dinner at Highclere Village Hall. Traditional English entertainment was provided by a group of Morris Dancers, The Garston Gallopers, with many fun danceshandkerchief waving and batton bashing-accompanied by accordion player, drum and bells. The French visitors really enjoyed the novelty of this and gamely accepted the invitation to have a go and join in – great fun was had by all! A pair of excellent guitarists played a wonderful selection of back ground music during the meal then later provided a lovely short concert of varied music during which the children and then the adults were encouraged to dance.

Sunday morning and the time of departure arrived all too soon but a lovely farewell coffee morning was held at St. Thomas' Church hall when everyone had the opportunity of chatting to friends they had not managed to catch up with the previous evening. After over 20 years of this link with the Normandy families, we know many of them very well and it's always sad to wave goodbye. However, next Spring we will head across the Channel for a fun filled weekend, continuing the friendships and enjoying the French way of life.

Madeleine Jenkins-Neighbourcare:

After being involved with Neighbourcare from its inception, thirty years ago, it was announced that Madeleine Jenkins has recently handed over the Neighbourcare 'baton' to others and was stepping down from the committee. As background, Neighbourcare helps people from both East Woodhay and Highclere parishes, to attend medical appointments and is growing each year as demand increases. Last year 477 journeys were undertaken for those in need and the indication is that the number will continue to increase.

Today there is a website, fully defined roles aligned with policies and procedures. A computer system keeps a log of the requests and the iournevs taken plus there is a computer app where drivers indicate which journeys they can do. I knew this would be a long way from the beginnings which Madeleine would have seen all those many years ago and therefore I wanted to have a chat with her to find out more. This is the outcome from that conversation.

It all started when Madeleine was a Health Visitor in Thatcham. One day she had a phone call from Dorothy Barber, a fellow health visitor in Woolton Hill, and Dorothy had an idea to set up a group in the area to help people in need. Dorothy knew of a Neighbourcare held in The Swan pub in Kingsclere where the two invited a member of that Neighbourcare scheme to explain what they did.

Being health visitors, they already knew there was a local need and the initial idea was for Neighbourcare to cover a range of support activities, including: visits to doctors, gardening, dog walking, changing light bulbs etc.

> As Dorothy lived in Kintbury, Madeleine was the one who was in the area and she was asked to take the lead. Having publicised the idea in Spectrum and via people she knew, including Dr West and Rev David Carter, an inaugural meeting was held in St Thomas Church Hall. From this first meeting about six people volunteered and a committee was formed of Chair, Secretary, Treasurer, Advertiser. Madeleine was asked to be founding Chair of the group.

Posters were made, leaflets were dropped into homes and the surgery was involved to start awareness. A telephone number was designated for clients to call. It was all very informal but, with initial volumes being small, it worked.

However, as demand increased it became difficult to have enough volunteers to support all the activities. Consequently, the focus needed to be trimmed to the two priorities: driving to medical appointments and a 'befriending service' for lonely people. Over time as there became more and more need for driving, Madeleine and the committee made the difficult decision to channel down Neighbourcare to just transport.

When Madeleine changed work from being a health visitor to a full time Macmillan nurse, the extra work meant Madeleine needed to step down as Chair of Neighbourcare and Jean Bartholomew then took over. As a Macmillan nurse, Madeleine was involved with Newbury & District Cancer Care Trust and, for people with cancer, they too had a service to help people go to hospital. Importantly, they had a constitution and more formal processes. Therefore, about four years after it started and, borrowing ideas from the Cancer Care Trust, East Woodhav and Highclere Neighbourcare begun to have more structure in the way it operated. Over the years Madeleine has taken on several roles within Neighbourcare and, for a period, went back to being temporary Chair. Then about twenty vears ago Madeleine introduced the CRB (Criminal Records Bureau) check for all drivers and she has continued to lead this as it morphed into DBS (the government Disclosure and Barring Service) until recently stepping down from Neighbourcare.

However, it is a lot more than simply the formal aspects which have

If you are interested in volunteering and joining the team, aiving as much or as little of your time as suits, then please call the Secretary, Keith Nunn (01635 253888) or look at the website (ewhneighbourcare.org.uk) defined Madeleine's importance to our local Neighbourcare. She has always been the 'ao to' person for advice and with all the changes which have been implemented over the years it has always been Madeleine who has ensured that the committee keep the clients and drivers at the very centre of every change made.

A large number of the community benefit from the work of our local Neighbourcare team and we have a debt of gratitude to Madeleine and that original phone call from Dorothy Barber for setting the seeds in place thirty vears ago.

What Is A Hundred?

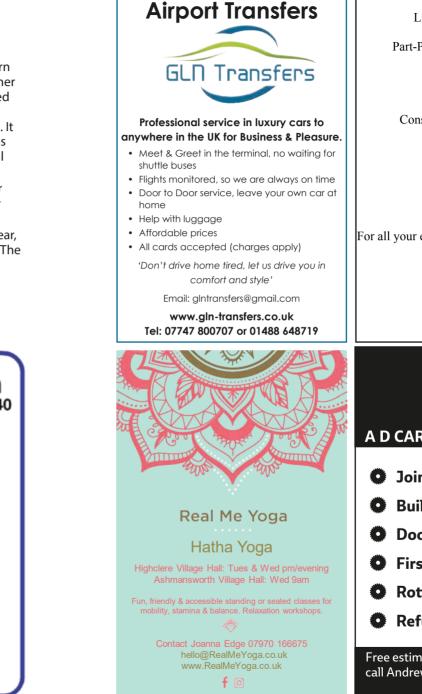

To answer the question asked by the Parish Council

A Hundred was an administrative division of a shire and forerunner of the modern District. Particularly important in the Saxon period but gradually declining as other forms of administration developed. A court was, in theory, held monthly at a fixed open-air location. It was presided over by the Hundred Reeve, representing the King and consisted of freeholders who considered minor criminal and civil cases. It could also levy taxes. Manorial and Shire courts gradually took over the functions of the hundred, but as a unit of administration it formally survived until the Local Government Act of 1894. In origin either a hundred hides or a hundred families. A County Shire was the Old English term. Each Shire was in the charge of a major landowner as Lord Lieutenant from Tudor times and a High Sheriff appointed by the Crown.

A Hide, originally the amount of arable land sufficient to support a family for a year, or the amount of land that could be ploughed by a team of eight oxen in a year. The area tended to vary from place to place.
