Editorial

Happy February!

As I'm writing this January has begun and the days are grey and wet. Not the ideal weather to get us upbeat about the year ahead. However, after receiving so many fantastic stories and articles this month it's certainly made me feel more cheery. I hope it does you too!

Editing Spectrum has highlighted what wonderful opportunities there are for villagers in the area. There are many clubs and groups for us all to join. And the variety means there really is something for everyone. From walking to gardening to films and even a group for mums running their own businesses (you can read more on this in the magazine).

My Nan – who will be 90 this year – currently lives in Caversham, Reading. She read Spectrum for the first time last month and said "What a great place you live. It has a real community spirit. I can see why you moved here". Unfortunately, there are not as many opportunities for my Nan to get involved in where she lives. I know she would relish having group meet ups in her diary to look forward to.

So, a big well done and thank you to everyone who run the clubs, and to the people who attend them. They really do make our villages' somewhere special to live!

Abbie.

East Woodhay Parish Council

Well the first month of the New Year has now largely passed and although winter will last a while yet, the days are slowly lengthening.

New Year cleaning

Spring cleaning is not something that springs to mind in February but the winter months are usually quite hard on our road signs. We would like to suggest that parishioners follow the example, set by our clerk last year, and scrub a nearby road sign to rid it of the inevitable growth of green mildew and dirt. All you need is a bucket of water and a brush to make a huge difference.

While on the cleaning theme, if you're lucky enough to have a pavement outside your house, sweeping it clear of stones, fallen twigs, leaves and anything else that appears will not only enhance the neighbourhood appearance but will add to the safety and comfort of any pedestrians using the path. Ditches may have clogged up since our last reminder so check to see if you have any that need clearing.

Safety on the roads

We urge anyone walking with or without dogs or jogging at twilight or later to wear some form of high visibility clothing. Despite bright headlamps it is often very difficult to see pedestrian traffic when driving. Drivers have to contend with powerful headlamps coming the other way and this greatly reduces the sensitivity of the eyes and a pedestrian clad in black clothing can easily be missed (or hit in extreme cases).

Luckily cyclists are less guilty nowadays as they have learned that conspicuity pays off in safety. There are the exceptions of course and ultimately Darwinian theory deals with them, alas leaving bereaved families.

Any problems with footpaths should be reported to Basingstoke & Deane Council, while potholes need reporting to Hampshire County Council.

Philip Jarvis.

Local Mums In Business Group Celebrates One Year Anniversary

Laura Maton, who lives in Woolton Hill, is celebrating a year of success for a business networking group she runs for mums in Newbury.

Mums in Business Association is an international group. However, in 2019 Laura realised the opportunity the group could bring for local mothers and jumped at the chance to bring the concept to Newbury.

After graduating from Nottingham University with a degree in French and History, Laura came back to her home town of Newbury with her partner, Andy (a trained chef). They followed their dream of running The Bull Pub in Stanford Dingley where Laura managed front of house while Andy served up delicious dishes.

However, after having two boys (now 5 and 2), Laura and her partner said goodbye to their landlord days and set up home in Greenacres, Woolton Hill.

Mums from Mums in Business Association meet up in Newbury

Laura's career took a new path and she launched a money-saving venture. Her business helps home owners and companies save on their utility bills and everyday spending.

While setting up the new business, Laura soon realised how effective and valuable networking events were for small business owners. However, with two young children at home she found it hard to attend them.

It was during this time Laura discovered Mums in Business Association, a group for mums and women who run their own companies. The group gives women an opportunity to network in a relaxed environment while learning new business skills. The biggest selling point however is that you can bring children!

Realising how valued this style of group would be in Newbury, in March 2019 Laura signed up to bring the concept to West Berkshire.

Laura said: "It can be lonely running your own business venture – especially when you're a mum at home with young children, The aim of the group is to provide a support network of like-minded people who can pass on knowledge or just be there to lend an ear.

"Every month we have a guest speaker who shares insights and tips, whether that's for goal setting, social media strategy, marketing or general business running advice.

"The main element that brings the group together is that the events are child-friendly. We're all women who understand children need the freedom to play, talk, snack and even tantrum!

"The group has been running for 12 months now, however we're always accepting new members. Even if you don't have a business but are interested to come along for ideas and inspiration, we'd love to get to know you."

Laura is looking for Guest Speakers in 2020 to come along to the group and share their business skills, talents, advice and knowledge. If you'd like to take part get in touch at laura@bigpurplesavings.co.uk.

It's free to become a member of Mums in Business Association in Newbury. You can sign up at www.facebook.com/groups/mibaberksire

Woolton Hill & District Gardeners' Club

Now 2020 is here, our thoughts turn once again to horticultural prospects for the new year. We have to remain optimistic, whatever the weather! Maybe by February the soil will have dried out sufficiently for preparations to begin for spring and summer.

On Thursday 27 February our speaker, John Baker, will talk to us about Heavenly Hostas. Plant breeders have produced a huge variety of shades of Hostas over the past few years, so I'm sure John will have favourites to show us. He will advise us how to grow, propagate and protect them from slugs and snails. It would be brilliant if he has a solution to attack vine weevils too!

Dear Friends,

When did you first notice Easter eggs on sale in the shops this year? Someone told me they saw them before Christmas – well, I didn't see that! I did however see Cadbury's Cream Eggs for sale in the supermarket on 3 January. So, within the twelve days of Christmas when the figure of baby Jesus was lying safely in our Christmas crib, Easter has come into view!

I make no apology for mentioning both Christmas and Easter in the same sentence, because that is exactly what we shall be doing in our church services on Sunday 2 February. We will be celebrating the festival called Candlemas, also known as 'the Presentation of the Christ child in the Temple'. It falls 40 days after Christmas and looks back to Christ's birth and also forward to hint at the time of his suffering and death still to come.

On this particular festival we hear how Mary and Joseph took the baby Jesus, only 8 days old, to the Jerusalem temple to fulfil the rites of the law. Simeon, a devout old man, is there waiting, hoping, looking for the sign of God's salvation.

Somehow Simeon perceives that the child Jesus is the promise of God fulfilled, the one who will be 'a light to lighten all peoples'. In time past the year's supply of candles for the church were blessed on this Sunday – a reminder of Simeon's words about Jesus, the light for all people. Yet as Simeon meets Christ he sees both joy and sorrow: joy that the light shines in the darkness and joy in the promise of salvation; but sorrow at the cost of that salvation for Jesus, and for Mary as he says also to her 'and a sword will pierce your own soul too'.

In our communities I meet many folk who give a great deal of themselves to care for others, often unseen or in the background they attend to those in need. It can be a painful process to share the sorrows of others, to weep with those who weep is not easy and the darkness may seem impenetrable at times—but in that sharing of our love and concern, and our empathy with the pain of others, so I believe our communities are strengthened and something of the love and light of God are made very real.

May the light of Christ be with us all.

With every blessing,
Canon Christine

Woolton Hill Junior School's Reporters

Hello to all the readers. We are Erin and Thomas, the Year 6 school reporters from Woolton Hill Junior School. We will aim to write a short article for each Spectrum edition this year that we hope you will enjoy reading.

At the end of 2019, we celebrated Respect Week which had the theme of "Change Starts with Us." This tied into the Anti-bullying Alliance's Anti-bullying week. The lessons during the week focussed on how to keep everyone safe and happy and each child added a pledge to the whole school kindness tree, which is now displayed in the school reception.

On the last day of the week all of us wore odd socks (#OddSockDay) to highlight that it's ok to be different. A student commented that it was fun to wear cool colourful socks - it showed that we are all unique! Another student stated, "Respect week was brilliant as we got to see everyone being kind and caring."

By the time you read this we will have started school again-we will update you soon on our 'Safer Internet Day' which is on the first day of school after Christmas.

E is for...

Did you know there are 10,809 words
beginning with an E?

In December, we learnt about the 1851 Great Exhibition in Hyde Park, which was a project led by Prince Albert to show that British products were superior.

Other E's discussed were:

Esperanto is the most widely spoken invented language and has completely regular phonetic spelling.

Ecstatic is defined as a feeling or expressing overwhelming happiness, or joyful excitement. Alternatively, involving an experience of mystic self-transcendence.

Empathy is often used to refer to the capacity or ability to imagine oneself in the position of another and how they are experiencing emotions, ideas or opinions.

Email and cyber technology were treated irreverently in a hilarious poem, written by one of our talented members.

E-Bay the Global online auction-shopping site, used by individuals and businesses to buy and sell goods and services.

The English civil war—we debated whether we would side with the King or the Parliamentarians.

Egg Nog is a seasonal drink, made of milk, cream, sugar, whipped egg whites and yolk, sometimes with Brandy, rum or Bourbon added.

We reminisced about Eric Morecambe and Ernie Wise whose Christmas shows were legendary.

Emeralds are among the rarest gemstones and are often more expensive than diamonds.

The Emu is a flightless bird, second largest by height, and has a 10-20 year lifespan in the wild. They are farmed for meat, eggs, oil, leather and feathers.

Exercise is important to retain physical fitness. Studies show that it may increase life expectancy and overall quality of life.

Finally, Euston station was opened in 1837. It is the Southern terminus of the West coast main line. Destinations include Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow.

The topics were very varied and we all had an entertaining evening.

NWR's Christmas Party

This year's Christmas party was an entertaining end to our NWR year with festive games (including a challenging Christmas quiz) and a fantastic buffet provided by all our members.

We wish you all a belated Happy

Picture of Woolton Hill by Annie Pilsworth

The January issue's front cover was designed by some of the children from St. Thomas' Infant School in Woolton Hill. However, there was another picture that also stood out but couldn't be squeezed into last month's issue.

So, here it is: "Woolton Hill" by Annie Pilsworth, Year 1.

Well done Annie!

I (Abbie) ran the Reading Half Marathon in 2019. It was a first for me. The training wasn't easy, especially with two young children, but the buzz I got from crossing the finish line was amazing.

This year I've entered the half marathon again. A good friend of mine sadly lost her sister-in-law to cancer in 2019 and asked me to join her in the challenge to raise money for Cancer Research UK. Of course, I said yes!

I've started my training. You might see me running around the villages from time to time. However, as I know other Spectrum readers may have their own running challenges this year, I thought I'd ask a local Personal Trainer to give us tips to achieve our goal.

Andrew Hawthorn, who grew up in Woolton Hill, is a Personal Trainer, Boxing Instructor and University student. Also a regular half-marathon runner, Andrew shares his invaluable tips.

Good luck!

Steady does it

It can be tempting to jump straight into your long runs; however, this can lead to boredom and unwelcome injuries. Aim to set yourself weekly goals with gradual increases in distance. For example, Monday – walk/run, Wednesday – medium/ fast-paced jog, and Friday – long, steady run. Try to incorporate some weight-based exercises as well such as squats, lunges, push-ups and planks. Gradual increases ensure you safely adapt to your running, and weight training strengthens your muscles and joints, improving your endurance.

Nutrition

A highly important aspect of any training routine. Pre-training – opt for carbohydrates such as oats or try peanut butter and banana on wholemeal toast for a super energy boost! It's also very important to stay hydrated. Water is usually adequate for shorter runs, but once you start going over the one-hour limit – you may want to try a sports drink. For a basic recipe, mix 500ml water, 500ml unsweetened fruit juice, and add ¼ teaspoon of sea salt. Post-training – simple, sugary carbs such as fruit will help replace your energy levels.

Mindset

There will be times when you feel deflated; maybe you feel like you're losing, not gaining results. This is perfectly natural. When you feel sluggish – don't give in. You need to reward yourself for how far you've come and what you're going to achieve. A half marathon is not easy – it takes discipline – so pat yourself on the back and keep moving forward. You'll be amazed at how quickly your 'zing' comes back!

Gear

Wearing the right gear is essential for a comfortable race; for example, trainers, shorts and a top that helps keep you cool. If you're unsure what trainers to buy – professional advice is available in many (running) shoe stores. There is also a simple test found online known as the "wet footprint test". This offers a general guideline to help you choose your optimal shoes.

Rest

It's best not to try and run every day. Aim for at least one day of rest between training; if you get itchy feet – maybe go for a swim. Just remember: your body needs to recover to get faster and stronger!

If you'd like more tips you can get in touch with Andrew here www.athfitness.co.uk

Christmas Walk Raised £600 For Naomi House And Jack's Place

Over 200 walkers from Highclere, Woolton Hill and the surrounding villages met at the Highclere Red House on the 27 December for the 35th Annual Village Christmas Walk.

After all the rain it was a delight to wake up to no rain and mild temperatures, tempered only by the heavy mud in places under foot as the walk wound its way through Hollington to East End.

A superb total of £600 was raised via donations made on the walk for Naomi House and Jack's Place Charity.

As in previous years, the walk was sponsored and organised by Ian Briggs, John Angle and Clive Sanders, supported by a group of willing helpers, in co-operation with the East Woodhay Society and the Highclere Society.

Half way around the 4 mile route the walkers stopped at East End where free mulled wine and mince pies were served, the pies donated by Charles Mills of Budgens Mortimer.

Clive Sanders, one of the Walk's founders said "It was a grand turnout considering all the rain we've had. We were very happy to see so many new families, with young children and dogs joining the walk, raising money for a very worthwhile charity. A big thank you to all those who came and who gave so generously."

After 35 years the current organisers have finally decided to call it a day. Over time the Christmas Walk has become a popular village institution and since 2003 when charity collections were first made some 3,000 walkers have donated over £10,000 for local good causes.

It is good to report that a number of people, including some who as young children took part in the first walk 35 years ago, have come forward to take over as organisers so that the Walk can continue for another 35 years!
